

Lecture Delivering Competition

07-March-2022

A lecture delivering competition was organized on March 7, 2022 in the department of Mathematics. Total 12 students from different classes participated in this competition. Students delivered their lecture on the topics Golden ratio, History of Pi, Babylonian mathematics, Roman Mathematics, Sine Function, Epsilon-delta definition of Limit, Contribution of Srinivasa Ramanujan, Fibonacci Sequence using Power Point Presentations and oral Presentations. Gurmanjot kaur, B. Sc. Hons. Math II won first prize. Natasha, B.Sc. Hons. Math-II, Amandeep Singh, B.Sc. Hons. Math II and Harmanjot Singh, B.Sc. Hons. Math-II, Saru Jindal, B.Sc. Hons. Math-II were the winners of second and third prize respectively. Prof. Dr. Gurmeet Singh, Vice Principal and Head of Department declared the result of the competition and appreciated the students to participate in such events in future also. The judgement was prepared by Dr. Harpreet Kaur, Pf. Narinder Kaur and Pf. Gurwinder Kaur. On this occasion, Pf. Namarata, Dr. Bharat Goyal, Dr. Parampreet Kaur, Pf. Navneet Kaur and Pf. Sukhjeet Kaur and all the teachers of department were present.

All the students of department joined this event, learnt and enjoyed very well. At the end of the program, Dr. Harpreet Kaur presented the vote of thanks.

