

Tree Plantation Activities by the Students

PG Department of Geography and Environmental Sciences initiated the activity of tree plantation by the students. Students from all the streams and classes participated in this activity. Prof. Amandeep Kaur was the incharge of this activity. Students planted trees and saplings in their houses around spaces around their college. This activity was surprised by continuously encouraging students to do something for the environment. Students very enthusiastically participated in this activity. During the lockdown students were encouraged to take hobby or any interesting activity to make them busy too engage their mind in constructive activities. Students submitted saplings and pots till 10th of March, 2021.
