

SIP Report (B.Sc. Medical)

Dated: 29-09-2021

The PG Department of Agriculture has organized student induction programme (SIP) dated 29th september, 2021 at Bhai Gurdas Seminar Hall, Patiala for the students of B.Sc. Medical. All the students of B.Sc. Medical participated in this programme. The event presented an opportunity for orientation, academic inspiration and interaction of students with their fellow students and faculty members. The main motto of the programme was to make the new students comfortable to the new environment and inculcate in them the spirit and the culture of the college. The event commenced with the welcome speech by Dr. Imtiaz Khan who congratulated all the first year students on their arrival to Khalsa College, Patiala. Prof. Rajdeep Singh Dhaliwal, Head of Department, enlightened the students about the establishment, infrastructure and achievements of the college by giving more emphasis on its autonomous body. Vice Principal, Dr. Ajit Singh graced the occasion by sharing all the amenities provided in the college campus and how the college is actively involved in the holistic development of the students. Dr. Ratanpal Singh Randhawa illuminated the students with the importance of basic concepts in chemistry to our daily life. He further elaborated his talk on the research project initiation for undergraduate students and outlined the importance of DBT Star college scheme given to chemistry department.

Thereafter, Member of Anti-ragging cell, Dr. Parampreet Kaur created the awareness among the students about their rights and inspired them to report any kind of harassment to the members of anti-ragging cell. For this, she shared the contact details of all the members of the cell. Hardeep Kaur, Assistant Librarian spoke about the rules and regulations of using digital library and gave a brief account on the number of books, thesis, journals and magazines available in the library. She also explained the rules regarding the issue and return of the books and penalties which will be subjected in case of violation of rules. Then, the session was opened for student interaction in which all the students participated enthusiastically. The programme culminated with the vote of thanks by Dr. Khan to all the faculty members and students.